Eye Witness Description of Missing Aircraft B-17C 42-102467, Pilot, 1st Lt Issac N Alhadeff, 0-754306, 600th Bomb Squadron, 398th Bomb Group on Combat Mission to Brandenburg, Germany 6 August 1944.

Passing over Wesemunde at about 1045 hours the three ships in our element were hit by flak. Damage to my ship was slight, whereas Atkinson feathered number two prop. Alhadeff feathered number one and before prop came to rest, he peeled off, down and to the left, losing altitude and falling back rapidly. I instructed my tail gunner to watch him, which he did until Alhadeff fell back out of sight, still heading in the same direction as our formation. The speed with which he fell back suggested to me that his engine controls may have been hit. I took over the lead and continued on into the target.

As we were entering the coast in, I heard a ship call and say they were leaving the formation. Soon after, a wing leader behind our wing called my wing leader and told him that the ship that had just left the formation had hit the silk. This took place just inside the enemy coast.
